

UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY SYDNEY
School of Mathematical and Physical Sciences
37457 Advanced Bayesian Methods

PRINTING FOR ASSIGNMENT SUBMISSIONS

3rd September, 2024

Unless otherwise stated, the submission method for all assignments is:

Paper document handed to the lecturer at the start of the class.

The reason for this requirement is given below.

Around half of the assignments, especially those in the second half of the subject, involve computer graphics. For example, the upcoming applied parts of the subject involve Bayesian analyses of actual data sets. Graphical output is sometimes part of the assignment.

Please note the following points concerning print-outs for inclusion in your paper document assignment submissions:

- Printing can be done at the UTS Student Print Centre, which is located at the street level of Building 10.
- Please see overleaf for some additional details about the UTS Student Print Centre.
- Black and white print-outs are acceptable (even though colours are used for the screen version).
- A single black and white print-out costs 11 cents (last checked in October 2023).
- The number of print-outs for this subject will be less than around 15, which means that the total cost will be less than around $1.65.

Reason for the above requirement

Class sizes vary, but for a class of this size – 37 students – it is too time-consuming to process e-mail messages and PDF files. The paper requirement is driven by lecturer time demands.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS CONCERNING THE UTS STUDENT PRINT CENTRE

Note: These details were last checked in October 2023. Please let the lecturer know of any amendments.

At the UTS Student Print Centre there is a sign hanging up above the computers explaining the different ways they can go about printing documents. There are two methods to add money to your printing account:

1. Log onto `mymonitor.uts.edu.au` where you can add money to the account and upload documents for printing.
2. Visit the card machine and use your student identification card and a debit or credit card to add money to your account.

Once the money has been added to their account, you need to upload the documents for printing to your `mymonitor` account or e-mail them `myprint@uts.edu.au` Then you use your UTS student identification card to log into the printer and release the documents that you have uploaded for printing.